

Time Management Tools

Prioritised To-Do Lists

In order to make sure that important tasks are not forgotten about, divide to-do lists according to the urgency and importance of tasks. Important tasks that need to be done soon should be tackled first. If there are no Urgent Important tasks, and other urgent tasks have been completed, now is a good time to start tackling important tasks that don't need to be done for a while.

